

PREPARING FUTURE FACULTY WORKSHOP

OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES (OER): RIGHT CONTENT, RIGHT FORMAT, RIGHT WAY

Tuesday, May 16, 2017 from 2.15 - 3.30 pm

Ted Constant Convocation Center (enter on the 43rd street side)

This interactive workshop will expose graduate students to critical issues related to effectively and ethically using open educational resources.

1. How to select resources that provide necessary content?
2. How to leverage different open access formats?
3. How to ethically use OER?

Workshop presenters:

- David Chapman, College of Business
- Lucinda Rush, University Libraries
- Stephen Young, College of Arts & Letters

This workshop is offered as part of the CLT Summer Institute on Teaching and Learning, and counts as one PFF events toward the PFF Certificate. Attend the full CLT Summer Institute for one additional non-PFF event.

Registration required! <http://clt.odu.edu/si>

If you only plan to attend the PFF Workshop, register only for May 16.

You are encouraged to attend BOTH days of the Summer Institute on Teaching and Learning – register for both May 16 and May 17.

Need more information? E-mail Dr. Wie Yusuf (jyusuf@odu.edu)

<https://www.odu.edu/success/programs/pff#>

<http://sites.wp.odu.edu/PreparingFutureFaculty>