<h1 style="text-align:center">Community service activity</h1>

This picture of me in my red shirt is a free Zoom meeting I sometimes organize for individuals in society. This picture is important as it goes beyond showcasing technical skills and academic achievements. It reflects a sense of social responsibility and a desire to contribute positively. In the cybersecurity domain, where information protection affects everyone, my engagement in these activities highlights my awareness of the broader impacts of my field.