Historical Leaders

It is better to lead from behind and to put others in front, especially when you celebrate victory when nice things occur.
You take the front line when there is danger. Then people will appreciate your leadership.

Leadership

- This class has allowed me to see leadership from different vantage points. Before this class, I didn't know too many differences between a manager and a leader. The skills and theories were something that allowed me to view my past encounters and see how some of those could have been used. I know it takes more than just a charismatic personality to lead people in the 21st century. Access to information can have a positive and/or negative effect on a leader who is not careful to back up what they promise.
