Summary

I'm a dedicated and engaged Cybersecurity Master's student, and a recent Criminal Justice and Cybercrime graduate looking to take my education a step further. I have a strong familiarization with the environment and techniques surround policing and investigations through my hands-on experience as an intern at Old Dominion University Police Department. With my current Master's courses proving me practical technical proficiency through applied labs, I am expanding my knowledge with Windows Server, Linux CLI, and PowerShell environments. Having had exposure to cybersecurity principles both at the undergraduate and graduate level, I am excited for the chance at seeing and applying these concepts in the real world.
