Experience	2019-2024	Constellis	Moyock, North Carolina
	Range Technician
	Since roughly 2019, I have been working as a range technician for Constellis. Constellis brands itself as being a security company, that provides training and education in regards to shooting guns, tactical movements, among other things. If you've heard of Blackwater, it's the new company that they've formed with an old competitor that they used to have. I am entrusted on managing a small team of other Range Technicians, giving them instruction and providing assistance to them, as needed. In rare cases, I am required to maintain the pneumatic systems that power the pop-up targets.

Skills
Programming	Javascript, C++, Python, Rust
Networking and Security	PfSense, Unix Systems Operation
Web Development	HTML

Skills	I am a self motivated worker, with plenty of initiative and much intuition to guide me in all that I do.
	I am highly adaptable, I can learn quickly, and I work swiftly, and effectively.
	I am a committed worker. I never stop until the job is finished, and I always go above and beyond when it is required of me.
