2. Prices of the three domain names

- delonta.com - $69.99
- machinima.net - $2,988.00
- barackobama.site - $0.99

3. Answer to questions

- a. Companies pay thousands of dollars for the rights to use a domain name because domain names are marketing tools, the more familiar the name the more likely people will come. If companies by a domain name that has potential to become popular in the future, they can sell it for a large price
- b. More than IP Address assigned to a single domain name because it helps mitigate the amount of traffic a website may receive.
