Journal XI
Easton Jarboe
CYSE 201S

Cyber analyst jobs relate to behavior in a lot of ways. The way people operate online is very social and being able to understand and identify key signs can help a lot in work. Using social aspects it is very easy to figure out what people are doing and if it is malicious. THe idea of social learning can apply to this job a lot. Social behaviors affect everyone and they can show patterns in how we act. Unusual behavior can lead to the uncovering of a cyber crime and show how people are using the internet and affect others with it.