

Presentational Speaking

Over the course of the semester, I did a few Flipgrid assignments. With these assignments I got to practice my Spanish speaking skills and also my Spanish listening skills. I was able to watch other students speak in Spanish which allowed me to be exposed to more Spanish speaking. When I first did these last semester, I was super nervous because I felt others would think my Spanish was bad. However, after a few posts, I was no longer nervous because I remembered we are all in this together and we are in this class to learn. I used to have to record my videos at least ten times before I submitted them because I was nervous I was saying words incorrectly. Once I warmed up, I recorded them once, maybe twice, because I know I do not have to be a perfect Spanish speaker just from two semesters of Spanish. Learning a new language is very hard, but it is very rewarding, and these assignments allowed me to become more confident with the language.
