Ninja is a famous video game player. Ninja in the very beginning was streaming on Twitch which is a popular streaming website where people stream themselves playing video games. Ninja started getting really big on twitch and youtube around 2016. Fortnite, a new video game came out, and Ninja started playing it and streaming it all the time. Fortnite blew up the video game industry and I would say is probably one of the most famous games to ever come out. Definitely not the most popular game, but definitely is up there. Ninja for more than a couple years lead streamers and views and he grew in wealth very quickly. In this video I chose, it is from six years ago. This is one of his more popular videos. It is popular because he had so many kills in a single match. And I also chose it because it was "OG Fortnite" and that is when he was really popular and when the game he was playing was at its peak. And now I will describe how Ninja is while streaming. During streaming, you can see Ninjas face and the game he is playing. And while streaming he interacts with all the comments. So he is talking to people the whole time he is playing. But he also gets personal and can make us relate to him. He shows emotion, and passion while playing the game just like other people while showing. And he respects people, not in this video, people who participate in ramadan, he turns off the camera on his face while he eats.
