

Journal entry 4:

- Being on social media is a great way to showcase your creativity. Every post you make can be unique to you and it can be of anything you find interest in.
- In social media we post things we think others will enjoy so we can be liked by them and have some sense of belonging.
- You can create friends or even reconnect with family over technology, it is a huge place where you can find or meet anyone.
- Even though technology can be unsafe at times, it also can be used to keep you safe and help you in dangerous situations and give you a feeling of safety.
- Technology can be used to help spread awareness for struggling people and get them provided with their personal needs.
