

Rulebook for How Foolish Using Fire against A Dragon?

Grayson Dunaway

Where to play: <https://gduna002.itch.io/game-jam-game-dragon-game>

Theme:

You're a strong dragon who is known for their terror and destruction. The knights of the area have had enough with your destruction. They found where you have been hiding and they have sent their finest mages to take care of you. Mages? They plan to use fire on me? They are foolish. It is time you show them truly how strong you are.

How to play:

The game is quite simple. You use the arrow keys to move around and you aim with your mouse. The Mages will spawn and it is your job to survive as long as you can. You can defeat them using your fire breath. You do this by using your left click to shoot fireballs at where your cursor is. Careful they have some fire magic of their own. You want to make sure you dodge that otherwise you are dead. Make sure to keep them at bay otherwise you will face the same demise.

General Mechanics:

You have 3 health to start. You can get hit with 3 fireballs only. If the mages get too close and strike the dragon you instantly die.

Try to rack up as many points as you can by defeating the mages. Try and break your previous record!

The goal of the game is to get as high of a score you can. You want to be sure to deal with the mages quickly. The reason for this is they get stronger the longer they fight you. They gain higher health and regain health the longer they are in battle.

Hope you enjoy the game I know I do!

It's time to show those mages what real destruction is!
