

I did not have a chance to go the first or second tertulia. I wish I could have experienced my peers and been able to converse with them in Spanish. This probably would have been a great experience for me but I was not able to be present. However for the first tertulia I have talked to Kevin instead. He was very easy to talk to and he was also patient with me. We laughed through our mistakes and kept going and the conversation was effortless. The second tertulia I decided to talk to my god sister, she is from Barcelona. Since we are family it was very easy to talk with her without being nervous and I did an amazing job.
