

• Andriy Slynychuk has described eleven things Internet users do that may be illegal. Review what the author says and write a paragraph describing the five most serious violations and why you think those offenses are serious.

- Using Torrent Services: As using torrent itself isn't illegal, but if you are using the services to download illegal movies or software it could come with serious consequences.
- Bullying or Trolling: This is probably the most popular one as everyone has experienced it once in their life. This can come with a lot of mental problems to the victim and also it's just not worth the energy of being negative for your own mental gains.
- Sharing passwords, address, or photos of others: This can end up ruining peoples lives with a simple click of a post or send button. This can turn someone's life for the worse in a instant
- Extracting audio from Youtube: I didn't even know this was a thing until now, a lot of people would probably get in trouble and wouldn't even know.
- Using other peoples' internet: I was aware of this and understand how illegal it is because it's like using something that someone doesn't give you permission for.

•Read ODU's electronic communications policy. Write a paragraph describing how it relates to cybersecurity.

As cybersecurity has made it into everyone's policies as it can be dangerous if there isn't a policy, people would have no barriers and do as they please which would eventually cause problems. They want to enhance productivity while keeping it easy to communicate with everyone around them. One example is the ODU email you are limited to only communicating with people inside the email and everything that is sent through the email is filtered to the point where it makes sures no virus or hacking may be going on. Students are still responsible for communicating with people on problems or any of the course information. Overall these policies play a key part of order and structure in the way things operate via technology at ODU.
