

Segmentation Principle

Computer work for clients

With this side job and computer work it could be anything from basic work to work that could take hours and hours to get

I started to do this with my dad at first because he is a IT professional and then I found it interesting so I started to as a hobby which then turned into a job

