

My Reflection

creating a multimodal WordPress website allowing me to express myself and interact with my audience in different ways. choosing a customizable theme as well as putting in media such as text, images, videos, and audio among others has been fun for me all the way through. More so sharing my creativity and interests using visually appealing materials has been the most fulfilling experience to me.

Making sure my audience was in gagged through my website I have to make everything easy to access and to read by everyone who visits the site. My intention is to make my website inclusive and inviting for all by sticking to web accessibility requirements including alternative text for images or captions for videos among other features. making a multimodal WordPress website has given me an opportunity of passing across my thoughts uniquely.
