

Protocol

My protocol will consist of interviewing the director and surveying the participants in the GED program with a questionnaire. I have attached the interview questions and the questionnaire for your review.

The peer review activity was done in class last week, which was helpful. I submitted my interview questions to a classmate for review. The classmate stated they were good open ended questions to ask the director for the interview. She noted a spelling error and suggested that I use another vocabulary word or revise one of my questions. I decided to rephrase the question.

The survey will be given to adult learners participating in the GED program. With the director's permission, I plan to pass out the survey and collect the survey at the end of the day daily. I would like to know from the participants how the program is helping them. Does the program add to their professional and personal well-being? What they like or don't like about the program? Any suggestions or recommendations for future planning. What are their plans after receiving the certificate? Is this a good program for those seeking to better themselves?
