

My score on the social media disorder scale was a 0.0. I feel like some of the items in the scale were kind crazy because the fact that someone can get into an argument with their parents over social media is weird. I feel like different patterns are found around the world because some people may try to be famous on social media so their need for social media use can make sense but just a regular person feeling like they can't live without some sort of social media intel is outrageous.
