

I think that the CNN host statement doesn't really make any sense to me he's saying he would prefer his kid to drug and high instead of just drink. I take this as he would rather his kid have a higher chance to be hurt than be just drunk. I also don't understand how he's comfortable giving his kids drugs and drinks. Overall, I think the CNN host statement is outrageous and I hope he wasn't actually being serious.