Identify skills you are still building or need more experience performing. Discuss options to sharpen or learn the skills you will need to gain.

I really like traveling nursing for ICU jobs. The reviews are very good with past nurses that worked for them and they seem to be very considerate and caring people. The benefits are a good positive for my near future and I like the hours they give. I do not obtain a lot of the nursing experience considering I have not gone through nursing school yet but I do have my CNA license and have gotten to help and watch a lot of nurses with our residents and see what they do. I also have the skills of being able to work one on one with a resident and meeting their needs. I take monthly state tests with video and reading requirements to ensure the fresh memory of our residents' safety and comfort. I'm still building on my nursing duties and skills. To learn or sharpen the skills I need to gain I could continue to shadow and learn the skills from other registered nurses and continue my passion in my schooling.
