

Pick another Major and Minor on campus and write why you would like to pursue it. Will the additional major or minor help you in your future career? Do you foresee any challenges in pursuing the major or minor you have Picked?

If I were to choose another major and minor on campus, I would pick Criminal Justice as my major with a minor in Psychology. I would pursue this combination because both fields offer a deeper understanding of human behavior, the justice system, and the decision-making patterns behind criminal actions. Studying Criminal Justice would give me insight into how laws are enforced, how investigations unfold, and how different agencies respond to threats—knowledge that directly connects to cybersecurity in today's world. Pairing that with a Psychology minor would help me better understand how criminals think, what motivates them, and how behavioral patterns can influence cyberattacks, fraud, and other digital crimes. This combination would strengthen my future cyber career by giving me both the technical mindset and the human-focused perspective needed to identify risks and anticipate the actions of threat actors.
