

Talk Abroad 2
Mark Gemo
April 20 2020

For my second talk abroad I had spoken with my previous talk abroad partner, Ana. We first talk about school and work since that is what she asked me first. We then talked about what is currently happening in the world and what is happening in our cities. Ana talked about the crisis and how the people don't go outside because that is what their government told them to do and that they also have a curfew that starts at 2 in the afternoon. We talked about how the things are with the people who were affected the most by the problem and how they are dealing with it. I also included what people are doing here and what the United States is doing about the problem. This talkabroad was interesting because there were things that both of us learned about each other's places since it affects everybody. The talkabroad was also good because the sound quality was good, camera quality and had a great partner.