Week 1 Journal Entry

The areas I would like to focus on in my cybersecurity career are Protection and Defense, and Investigation. These areas interest me the most because they would involve me securing systems and networks. I would also be solving security issues. Protection and Defense requires setting up strong defenses to protect against cyber threats and cyberattacks. The Investigation appeals to me because that will involve me digging into incidents to find out what happened and how to prevent it from happening again. Both of these areas in the cybersecurity field contribute to the goal of keeping information safe, helping to prevent the information falling into the wrong hands.
