Week 10 - Journal Entry

The article “Social Cybersecurity; An Emerging National Security Requirement” by Lt. Col. David M. Beskow and Dr. Kathleen M. Carley highlights the importance of cybersecurity within modern defense strategies. The author defines the term Social Cybersecurity as a scientific field aimed at trying to understand cybersecurity related changes as well as examining human behavior. A large portion of the article discussed Russia’s information warfare tactics, showing their use of propaganda and disinformation to try and remove trust.
