

After graduation I kind of have an idea of what I want to do with my cybersecurity degree. I want to take my cybersecurity degree and become a CSO (chief security officer) for the government or for a top company. With that being something that I want to pursue after school I want to focus on oversee and govern area where it “provides leadership, management, supports the organization in cybersecurity work”. Protect and defend, and securely provision. When being put in any position to secure any sort of information for the government or even for a company you have to know what you’re doing with their system and know how to protect it so focusing on protect and defend and securely provision are two other I would like to focus on.
