Journal Entry 14

Out of the 11, these are all things that are issues but some are far more important than others. The first important violation is cyberbullying, this is a never ending cycle of negativity and this should be illegal. Collecting information about children is also serious as it pertains to minors which is a very serious violation. Another would be using copyrighted info, images, music, etc. individuals that have something, may legally copyright and sue anyone that tries to make a profit of their own work. Faking your identity is also serious, as this leads down the rabbit hole to identity theft. Lastly, illegal searches on the internet are no surprise to be a violation as there are things on the internet that no human should see.
