

Test 2 homework reflection

For the homework's that went to toward test 2 practice problem solving heat generation using program COMSOL. Determining your boundary, populating the correct material information, creating temperature profile, and comparing the temperature profile that COMSOL would do with their formulas and with creating an expression you would come up with.