

Test 2 homework reflection

For the homework's that went toward test 4 practice problem solving problems where you had to calculate the heat transfer coefficient. Using the information in the book to help you determined which equation you should use.