To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure that I submit to you my recommendation of Sarah Vakos who was associated with our company in a sales capacity during 2020.

As a sales rep for Vector, Sarah has received extensive training in interpersonal communications, time management, and the importance of an individual's attitude regarding their accomplishments. In addition to attending our professional training seminar, she also attended sales conferences where she participated in extensive workshops with individuals in her peer group and managers of the corporate staff. I have received the highest personal recommendation from Sarah's Division Manager, Bryan Hurlman.

During her time with us, Sarah has won many sales awards. She has distinguished herself not only through sales performance, but also as a potential leader through involvement in the operation of one of our district offices. As a result she is amongst a special group of individuals honored by me as a member of our "PRESIDENT'S CLUB." This honor is reserved for high achievers and we are very proud of this accomplishment.

Any individual within our organization that achieves this distinction certainly is a highly motivated and talented individual. Direct sales have long been recognized as a proving ground for successful business people from all walks of life. It requires hard work, self-discipline, a willingness to accept challenge and a high degree of personal responsibility. Sarah is such an individual and this is why I feel comfortable in passing along my personal recommendation to you.

In closing, let me invite you to contact me personally at our corporate headquarters. If you have any questions, also feel free to contact our local Division Manager, Bryan Hurlman at (703) 829-5765.

Thank you for this opportunity to submit my feelings about this fine young individual.

Very truly yours,

Albert T. DiLeonardo
