

BOEING

An'Dreah, Shaun, Brandon

Boeing's Industry

Boeing is an aerospace company that deals with planes and cybersecurity.

Because of the information they hold they are more prone to attacks.

01

Main Product

Boeing creates and manufactures commercial airplanes, defense products, and space systems and military aircraft.

Customers/ consumers

The military and airline companies.

- United Airlines
- American Airlines
- Southwest Airlines
- Airforce

Why does Boeing need cybersecurity?

Boeing is one of the biggest target when it comes to cyberterrorism and attacks. They need cyber to keep safe traveling and to keep competition from gaining confidential company information. They have to protect the systems that guarantee that their planes get to where they need to.