

Visit PrivacyRights.org Links to an external site. to see the types of publicly available information about data breaches. How might researchers use this information to study breaches? Enter a paragraph in your journal.

The website provides a lot of information about data breaches. Researchers are able to identify organizations that are being targeted and also the type of information that is being hacked. The information that this website provides is very useful for these organizations to be aware of possible threats. The website can provide information based off the state to identify each state's policies. Data from breaches that have occurred in the past are also shown on this website. The previous data about breaches allows researchers and organizations to create a plan for the future. The site provides tips to educate people on how to reduce or prevent breach attacks. This site is a helpful research tool for people to educate themselves about breaches.