Cybersecurity workforce management is one role I would like to focus on for my career. This role will be helpful to make sure that there is a plan created to be able to respond to tasks or be able to make changes to a problem if needed. Another role I would like to focus on is cybersecurity curriculum development. This will require the responsibility of developing techniques. Planning, coordinating, and evaluating will be skills required to create a good curriculum. One role that is not appealing to me is digital evidence analysis. I would rather take on the role of cybercrime investigation and be involved with the investigation process. Multi-disciplined language analysis is also an unappealing role because it requires being fluent in other languages.
