

Journal 10

This relates to subculture by the way that they carry themselves. They carry themselves like they are rappers. I used this subculture because they are talking about how they are scamming which in some rap is common. In the rapper subculture they like to mainly talk about the struggle that they are going through. For an example them talking about the scamming and talking about getting with a lot of women.