Collecting information about children is the first on my list. This is serious because first it it's a child and why is someone collecting information on them. The second one on my list is illegal searches. This is serious because people need to realize what they are searching, and that people see what they are searching. The third one on my list is faking your identity online. this is very serious because this is a problem on the internet, and it happens all the time. The fourth one that I chose was bullying/ trolling. This has been a problem for a long time now, this is serious because people can really be harsh on the internet. The last one that I chose was sharing password, pictures, or addresses. This is serious because people can do anything with those things to harm a person.
