

Journal 13 11/4

Cybersecurity analyst are the first line of defense, when monitoring a system or responding to a problem. One social theme that arises is responding to phishing attack. This could be seen as social because they have to identify and respond to phishing attacks. Another social thing that arises is being a help desk. This is a social thing because if anybody has question cybersecurity related they can come to the cybersecurity analyst.