The Privacy Rights organization website provides detailed and up-to-date reports on data breaches, conducts surveys, and provides guides for privacy-conscious individuals alike. The surveys appear to provide an in-depth analysis of an individual's data violations as a result of a breach. This informs those who visit the site what information people reveal about themselves on the internet, and what information is typically targeted in a breach. These surveys present an invaluable resource for building present and future data privacy laws in the United States. Privacy Rights is a non-profit organization that works to build high-quality databases and tools to inform public research.
