

Grant Deppen

Assistant Director of Intramural Sports and Esports

Requirements

- Training
- Must be able to recruit
- Have to be able to apart schedules to meet the needs of students
- You must be well versed in being a referee and officiating in intramurals
- In Esports, you must be flexible that the environment is changing and will continue to change

What to expect

- No day is ever the same!
- Flexibility is key
- When talking about Esports, it's more of trying to find out how to market this brand to students

Challenges

- The pandemic prevented newer students from learning about what intramural sports has to offer
- With Esports, it's a newer program and there's the possibility that some people may look down on it
- Finding a balance between exercising and playing video games

Biography

- Completed undergrad and Grad school at Kent State
- Majored in Sport Administration and minored in Business in undergrad
- Received his master's in Sport Recreation Management
- Currently working on his PHD in Public Administration and Policy

