

Review the NICE Workforce Framework. Are there certain areas that you would want to focus your career on? Explain which areas would appeal the most to you and which would appeal the least.

After reviewing the nice workforce Framework, the three areas I would focus my career on are Analyze, Investigative, and operate and maintain. Starting off with the Analyzing side, I always found the most appealing. It has more to do than just cyber security, but it fits what I want to do well. I always was good at analyzing things and it is something I can say I enjoy doing. Exploitation Analysis seems the most interesting to me because it is like finding the problems and working on ways to solve them. Investigative is the most interesting to me going off strictly cyber security. It correlates directly to the analyzing field and from first glance it looks like they do similar things depending on the job task. Digital Forensics is the most interesting to me. The job looks more like a government job after reading the description. I always wanted to see how they catch people doing fraud from a digital standpoint so that is something that interests me heavily and I would love to learn. Lastly, operating and maintaining I also find interesting, it looks like the hardest to me and you must be skillful and know your stuff to do it. Reading up on it and it looks more like you would be in the field and stopping things as it is going on. Out of all the specialty areas of operation and maintain Network Services look the most difficult and that is something I would want to learn.
