

Andriy Slynychuk Links to an external site.has described eleven things Internet users do that may be illegal. Review what the author says and write a paragraph describing the five most serious violations and why you think those offenses are serious.

After reading the article the most five serious situations are obvious to me. Coming in first bullying and trolling. Trolling I understand but bullying is serious and can cause harm to someone. Next is sharing passwords, addresses, and photos of others. My reasoning is because all this can put someone in jeopardy. Sharing photos of others with no consent is crazy and someone could get mad about it. Illegal searches on the internet are next because you could be looking up something you're not supposed to look up and since you are on the internet it's going to stay there. This is serious because there are a lot of weird people on the internet, and they could be using those things for a bad use. Last recording a call without consent. This is serious because leaking private information is bad.
